

Contact Details:

- ✓ Web: - www.nepaltouroperators.com
- ✓ Email: - nepaltouragency@gmail.com
- ✓ Cell No: - +9779871016865 (whatsapp, viber, WeChat)

Patan Bhaktapur day tour is an ideal cultural trip to the Kathmandu Valley. It is perfect for spending an extra day in Kathmandu at the beginning or end of the trip to Nepal. Ancient Bhaktapur and Patan Durbar Square are former royal palaces and listed on UNESCO World Heritage Site. One day is enough to see the highlights of two historic palaces. It is a worthy tour of Bhaktapur and Patan with an experienced local guide. We offer an excellent tour guide who has a good knowledge of the city and its history.

Bhaktapur and Patan day tour

- ❖ You will discover the ancient history of Bhaktapur and Patan
- ❖ You will explore the ancient Newari Culture.
- ❖ You will see ancient artistic creations, sculptures and deities
- ❖ You will see Pagoda-style temples and Hindu shrines
- ❖ You will Explore the cultural museum in Kathmandu Valley

Bhaktapur and Patan day tour is ideal for tourists. Half a day in Bhaktapur and half a day in Patan is enough time to see the best of two historical kingdoms. It is a short trip that takes you to a kind of history in which the past still lives in the present. The tradition is kindly repeated in a culture that has been immersed in an ancient history created by the kings of past generations, and religious principles have held firm to this day. Our day trip begins at 9:00 a.m. and ends at 4:00 p.m.

Bhaktapur, traditionally known as Bhadgaon, is a cultural center. It is the home of traditional art and architecture, historical monuments, Culture and handicrafts, wonderful windows, religious temples, beautiful ponds, religion, festivals, musical mystical clarification, etc. Bhaktapur remains an intact and preserved ancient city that is itself the world for tourists.

Patan is one of the most beautiful cities adorned with ancient art and architecture. It is a paradise in old wood, metal, art, and architecture. This ancient city is also famous for its authentic Newari culture. The local resident of this area often calls this city the original Sanskrit name Lalitpur, which means city of beauty. In the Newari language, this place is called Yala. When you cross this ancient city, you feel like you are in back time. The spectacular Durbar Square in Patan offers you the best collection of temples and places in all of Nepal.

During this tour, you can learn more about ancient history created by the kings of the past generation. Take walks on Himalayan landscapes and buckle up to learn about Nepal's ancient culture, architecture, and traditions.

Bhaktapur and Patan Day Tour Detailed Itinerary

Day 1: Explore Bhaktapur durbar square and Patan Durbar Square:

After breakfast in the morning, our guide will take you to Bhaktapur, an old Newari town, about 13 km east of Kathmandu. It is the third-largest city in Nepal and famous for its culture, temples, and crafts. It is a pleasant place to stroll, as the repaired streets are free of traffic and full of patios and squares. Tradition lives in Bhaktapur. You can see artisans crafting their centuries-old pottery and woodcarving skills. It is a great place to buy souvenirs and take them home. Here Bhaktapur Durbar Square is famous for its palace with 55 windows. Before 1769, it served as the base of the kings. The golden gate of the palace opens to the Teleju temple, built-in 1756. The city is also known for a special type of curd.

Patan (Lalitpur) is one of the largest cities in Nepal. It is right across the Bagmati River from Kathmandu. Patan Durbar Square is also UNESCO World Heritage Sites inside Kathmandu Valley. It is a heart of Hindu and Buddhist culture, full of spiritual art, temples and monasteries. Patan Durbar Square offers the best Newari architecture meditation in the entire valley. There are more than 600 stupas in the charming narrow streets that surround the square.

The costs include:

- ❖ Pick up and return to the hotel.

- ❖ Private transportation according to group size
- ❖ Experienced and knowledgeable English speaking tour guide

Cost Exclude:

- ❖ Snacks, drinks, and other personal expenses.
- ❖ Tips for tour guides and drivers
- ❖ Monuments Entry tickets fees